

Drop shape analyzer DSA30S (Kruss GmbH, Germany)

Drop shape analyzer DSA30S is used for contact angle measurement in static and dynamic conditions and measurement of surface free energy. The instrument is equipped with high-quality optical components and a high-resolution camera, allowing a precise evaluation of wettability and tensiometric properties of solid surfaces. The instrument is designed for applications in pharma, materials, cosmetics and food fields.

Research Assistant: Dr. Sara Bersani

